Re: American Chemical Services Site

Dear Mr. Siegel:

As you are aware, the undersigned counsel comprise the Steering Committee of an Ad Hoc group¹ of approximately 150 de minimis PRPs (the "Group"; a list of members is included as Attachment A²) at the American Chemical Services Site in Griffith, Indiana (the "ACS Site"). Although de minimis discussions have been ongoing for many months, the Group more formally organized following the dissolution of an earlier PRP group comprised of both major and de minimis PRPs (the "RD/RA Organizational Group"), and is made up of both former members and non-members of the RD/RA Organizational Group.

Over the course of the past few months, the Group has been working together to develop an independent de minimis settlement proposal for consideration by EPA. At our November 3, 1993 meeting, the Steering Committee laid out the parameters of the ¹ The Steering Committee does not represent the Group. Rather, each Committee member represents a single or several specific Group members. The Steering Committee serves only to facilitate and assist Group activities.

² It is anticipated that additional de minimis PRPs will join the Group. Accordingly, Attachment A may be amended.

Group's de minimis proposal. The purpose of this correspondence is to provide a detailed proposal, including a waste profile for the Site, for a de minimis settlement at the ACS Site. The following is a brief history of the Group's joint effort, a description of the reduced waste-to-the-site calculation which forms the basis of the waste profile which was developed, the waste profile itself and, the other details of the Group's proposal.

The Steering Committee wishes to make clear at the outset, this proposal is made for purposes of settlement discussion only. Nothing in this proposal should be construed as an admission of liability on the part of any PRP identified in Attachment A, nor a commitment to execute a settlement agreement unless that individual Group member determines that an ultimate settlement is acceptable. In addition, the waste profile developed by the Group was developed solely from publicly available information, and the Group does not seek confidential status for this proposal. In short, in response to the EPA request for de minimis proposals, the Group offers the following, detailed proposal for consideration.

The enclosed waste profile spreadsheets identify companies alphabetically and by rank. Each spreadsheet is divided into two parts, the first part listing generators having both pre- and post-1980 transactions, and the second part listing generators with post-1980-only transactions. The Steering Committee has not yet shared the second part with the post-1980-only generators. A computer disk containing the data supporting the spreadsheets in Lotus 3.1 format also is enclosed. Nothing in this information may be construed as an admission of liability of any Group member as it is being provided for settlement purposes only. Confidential status is not requested for either the spreadsheets, data, or computer disk.

Background

Through a joint effort, the Ad Hoc Steering Committee has developed an independent waste profile. Only information in the public domain has been utilized in the profile. The pre-1980 Generators have been notified by EPA of their potential liability. Generators are identified in the Clean Sites reports, ACS transaction logs, ACS accounts receivable ledgers, and manifests. The pre-1975 gross waste volumes are contained in the Clean Sites

United States Environmental Protection Agency
December 22, 1993

reports and ACS transaction logs. The post-1975 waste volumes are derived from the ACS accounts receivable ledger, converted to gallons utilizing a .20 per gallon conversion factor and then to pounds utilizing an 8 pounds per gallon conversion factor. The post-1980 waste streams are taken from the manifests which contain gross gallons, which are converted to pounds utilizing an 8 pounds per gallon conversion factor.

The gross waste-to-site volumes were adjusted for several de minimis PRPs from information provided by those PRPs in the independent Ad Hoc challenge rounds.

With the approval of the Ad Hoc Steering Committee, the gross waste-in volumes were reduced in the Group's waste profile by varying factors, depending upon the year involved (see discussion below for detailed description of reduced-waste calculations).

As approved by the Steering Committee, all pre-1975 waste volumes were reduced by 90% for incinerated waste and 80% for reclaimed waste. The 1975 - 1980 waste volumes were reduced by 96.25%. The post-1980 waste volumes were reduced by 99.75%. The total reduced waste volume for all periods for each generator was then calculated and the combined percentage share of all waste to the site was calculated. This formula is unique to the Ad Hoc Group, and has the consensus approval of the Ad Hoc Group as a whole.

After calculation of the final combined percentage, each generator's share under the Group's proposal was calculated. A pro rata share of the RI/FS costs were calculated, and a full credit was provided for RI/FS costs previously paid, when known. Information concerning payments made for the RI/FS may be incomplete; there may be additional adjustments to this portion of the profile.

REDUCED WASTE-TO-THE-SITE CALCULATION

As discussed in general terms above, the key component of the Group's proposal is the calculation of the reduced waste-to-the-site volumes for individual PRPs. The following is a detailed description of the reduced waste-to-the-site calculations adopted by the Group.

United States Environmental Protection Agency
December 22, 1993

Operations at the ACS site changed considerably over time, with management practices generally improving. As a result, the Group determined that, in general, waste sent to the site during early years of operation should be weighted more heavily than waste sent during later years. The reduced waste-to-the-site calculation is the mechanism by which the principle is incorporated into the allocation. Accordingly, each shipment of waste is reduced according to the time period in which it was received at the site.

Thus, for purposes of determining how much waste was sent to the site in total, one hundred pounds sent in, for example, 1959 "counts" as much as one hundred pounds sent in 1972. However, for purposes of calculating the relative amount each shipment contributed to contamination at the site (the "waste-in"), the 1959 shipment is reduced less than the 1972 shipment. As a result, the 1959 shipment accounts for a greater amount of "waste-in" than does the 1972 shipment. Similarly, each PRP's final waste-in allocation is a function of the total amount of waste it sent to the site, reduced according to the time period in which it sent each shipment to the site. Thus, in general terms, the final waste-in allocations of two PRPs that sent equal amounts of waste to the site may differ significantly where one PRP's involvement came early in ACS's history and the other's involvement came later.

The Group believes that the use of this approach is consistent with OSWER Directive #9834.7-1D in that it combines available volumetric records information with reasonable estimates of the volume of waste present at the site. The result reflects the Group's understanding of the waste present at the site, although the final calculations are not intended to be precise. The paragraphs below describe the rationale for the reductions applied in each time period.

United States Environmental Protection Agency
December 22, 1993

1. 1955-1975.

Waste sent to the site during this period was either reclaimed or incinerated.³ For purposes of calculating waste-in to the site, waste which was reclaimed has been reduced 80%, while waste that was incinerated has been reduced 90%. Consequently, the total volume of waste included in the database from this period is 20% of all reclaimed waste and 10% of all incinerated waste.

The 20% figure for reclaimed waste is based upon the report prepared by Clean Sites, Inc. ("CSI"), dated 1-9-87, entitled "American Chemical Services--Material Sent by Companies" ("CSI By Companies Report").⁴ That report depicts, for most companies, a calculation for "residue" from solvent recovery of "0.20", i.e., 20% of each shipment of waste to American Chemical Services, Inc. ("ACS"). CSI has explained that the determination of the percentage amount of residue from solvent recovery was made by CSI following its conferences with the former management of ACS, including past presidents George Murphy and James Tarpo, and John Murphy, a member of the firm with knowledge of past manufacturing

³ While Clean Sites, Inc. (see references to Clean Sites, Inc. infra) indicated in its $104(e) responses that there was some waste which was landfilled directly by ACS, without being subject to reclamation or incineration, the Group concluded that such amounts were not subject to corroboration, were not consistently calculated, and were, thus, not easily factored into any uniform allocation profile.

⁴ The documentary evidence upon which the CSI By Companies Report's conclusions were based was an American Chemical Services, Inc. ("ACS") transaction log covering the period from 9/15/55 through 10/31/72 and an "Accounts Receivable Trial Balance Ledger" covering the period from 12/31/72 through 12/31/75. CSI modified that information for purposes of calculating gross pounds-in to the ACS site, because the transaction log referenced the volume only of reclaimed solvent, not total waste volume prior to reclamation. (Memorandum dated 1/5/87 from Hazel R. Hoffman, Clean Sites, Inc. to Potentially Responsible Parties of American Chemical Service [sic] (ACS) Superfund Site ("CSI Hoffman Report"), unnumbered pages 1 and 3 of the attachment entitled "American Chemical Services ("ACS") Generation of the Data Base".)

practices and customers.⁵ While CSI's calculations of residue from solvent recovery for a few of the PRPs differed from 20%, apparently all calculations were in a range of 0 to 30%, with the vast majority being at 20%. Accordingly, the Group has determined, after consideration of this information, that in calculating the amount of waste to be included in the database for this period, the calculation would entail reducing the total amount of reclaimed waste-in, and, hence, the total amount of reclaimed waste sent to the site by each PRP, by a factor of 80%.

The 90% reduction for waste that was incinerated is derived with reference to the reduction factor assigned to waste that was reclaimed. The Group concluded that a 90% reduction was reasonable, after evaluating the amount of contamination that was likely to result from the incineration process relative to the contamination which was likely to result from the reclamation process. Accounting for spillage and leakage and for the continued on-site operation of Kapica Drum Co.'s drum reconditioning operation during this period⁶, the Group concluded that contamination resulting from incineration was roughly half that which resulted from the reclamation. Thus, whereas waste that was reclaimed is reduced 80% (i.e., 20% of the waste is considered waste-in), waste that was incinerated is reduced 90% (i.e., 10% of the waste is considered waste-in).

After determining the relative reductions for reclaimed and incinerated waste, the Group had to derive some means of determining the portion of waste from any given shipment to the site that was reclaimed and the portion that was incinerated. That determination was made referencing the third unnumbered page of the ACS Generation of the Data Base attachment to the CSI Hoffman Report, under the subheading "Incineration History".⁷ The percentages are based on an analysis of ACS operations which considered, for example, the number and efficiency of incinerators in operation during particular time periods. CSI indicates the annual percentages of total waste-in which were subject to incineration as follows:

- 1955 through 5/31/66: 0%
- 6/1/66 through 12/31/67: 50%
- 1/1/68 through 12/31/68: 65%
- 1/1/69 through 12/31/69: 75%
- 1/1/70 through 12/31/70: 90%
- 1/1/71 through 12/31/71: 95%
- 1/1/72 through 12/31/75: 100%

As noted above, the waste which was not incinerated was subject to reclamation. Thus, the percentage of total waste-in subject to reclamation are:

- 1955 through 5/31/66: 100%
- 6/1/66 through 12/31/67: 50%
- 1/1/68 through 12/31/68: 35%
- 1/1/69 through 12/31/69: 25%
- 1/1/70 through 12/31/70: 10%
- 1/1/71 through 12/31/71: 5%
- 1/1/72 through 12/31/75: 0%

Applying these percentages to each transaction during each applicable period, figures for total reclamation pounds-in and total incineration pounds-in were calculated.

2. 1976-1980.

During this period apparently no landfilling of waste and no residue was disposed of at the site⁸. Moreover, in 1978, Kapica Drum Co.'s operation began disposing its wastes in ACS's sludge box for off-site disposal.⁹ Records for this period consist of accounts receivable ledgers for the period until November 11, 1980.

Information from the accounts receivable reports was converted from dollars to pounds using the formula set forth in the CSI Hoffman Report, i.e., a value of $.20/gallon was used as an average disposal charge, and 8 pounds/gallon was used as the default density.¹⁰ The data from the manifests was converted using the 8 pounds/gallon formula. The Group arrived at a consensus waste reduction figure for this period of 96.25%. Again, this figure was reached with reference to the 80% discount applied to all waste-in, and reduced further given the changed circumstances at the site.

3. 1980-1990.

During this period there was apparently no landfilling of waste and no residue was disposed of at the site.¹¹ In addition, ACS was a RCRA permitted facility during this period, beginning November 11, 1980. Information for this period was obtained from RCRA manifests. Given the increased government supervision represented by RCRA and the cleaner operation run by ACS during this period, the Group arrived at a consensus waste reduction figure for this period of 99.75%.

4. Conclusion

The effect of using the above rationales to derive final waste-in allocations is summarized in the following chart, which illustrates how a shipment totaling ten pounds would be reduced depending upon the period in which it was received at the site.

Other Settlement Parameters

The Group proposes that the baseline remedy cost should be $46,800,000; settling de minimis PRPs pay a premium of 2.0 times the PRP's allocation share, as reflected in the waste profile which accompanies this proposal; that there should be no re-openers except statutory re-openers; and, the Group suggests that the de minimis cutoff should be at 0.6% share of waste-to-the-Site, leaving twenty-five (25) PRPs at the Site which would not be de minimis. Those twenty-five (25) PRPs represent approximately sixty-five percent (65%) of the volume at the Site.

The following is a more detailed description of each of these parameters.

Volumetric Cutoff For De Minimis Settlement - The Group proposes a volumetric cutoff for de minimis participation of 0.6% of reduced waste-to-the-site. Establishing the cutoff at 0.6% will reduce the number of non-de minimis PRPs at the Site to a total of approximately twenty-five (25) companies; the majority of which we believe to be financially viable. The de minimis cutoff is identical to the RD/RA Organizational Group determination of an appropriate de minimis cutoff for participation in conducting and funding the Remedial Investigation/Feasibility Study.

Estimated Response Costs To Be Incurred - EPA has estimated a range of response costs at the Site of between $39,800,000 and $46,800,000. Pursuant to OSWER Directive 9834.7-1D, when a range of response costs are estimated, a de minimis settlement should be based upon the high end of the range, or $46,800,000. Accordingly, the Group estimates the response costs to be incurred to be approximately $46,800,000.

Settlement Premium Multiplier - The Group proposes a 2.0X premium multiplier with covenants not to sue and contribution protection, with no re-opener for remedy changes. The 2.0X multiplier is appropriate, taking into account any expected orphan shares, and since there are site-specific factors which mitigate in favor of this premium multiplier as set forth above in the

Protection Agency
December 22, 1993

discussion of the reduced waste-in calculation. This is consistent with OSWER Directive 9834.7-1D, which suggests a range of premium multipliers from 1.5X with re-openers to 2.0X with no re-openers. Since the Group proposes no re-openers, we suggest the 2.0X multiplier. In addition to the factors considered pursuant to OSWER Directive 9834.7-1D, the 2.0X multiplier is appropriate when other sources of funds are considered. The Group understands that the major PRPs have reached a settlement with American Chemical Service, Inc. ("ACS") with regard to insurance proceeds paid to ACS. The Group believes that these sources of funds should amount to approximately 10% of the remedy cost at the Site or, a multi-million dollar pool of funds available for remedy costs. In addition, neither ownership nor transporter liabilities are considered under the OSWER directive. When these factors are considered, the 2.0X premium multiplier is appropriate.

Response Cost Calculation - Among the settling de minimis parties, the Group proposes that response costs be calculated by multiplying a PRP's percentage share of the remedy cost by the estimated total response cost for the Site, then charging a settlement premium as set forth in the discussion of the premium multiplier, above. Further, since many members of the Group were also members of the RD/RA Organizational Group which prepared an RI/FS, several members of the Group have incurred costs for the RI/FS. The cost of the RI/FS was approximately $3 million. Accordingly, the waste profile includes a credit to certain Group members for the pro rata share of RI/FS costs which were incurred.¹²

Minimum Payment - The Group believes that an appropriate minimum payment for de minimis PRPs at the Site is $2,500.00. The minimum payment takes into account the administrative and other transaction costs that settling de minimis PRPs will avoid through settlement.

¹² This information is incomplete. It is believed that additional Group members will be entitled to the credit for RI/FS costs.

United States Environmental Protection Agency
December 22, 1993

Release From Liability - As noted above, the Group proposes that a de minimis settlement will include covenants not to sue and contribution protection for settling parties, and a settling premium which provides for no re-opener (except for statutory re-openers), for remedy changes.

The de minimis PRPs believe that this proposal meets the criteria set forth in OSWER Directive 9834.7-1D, as well as including all of the elements set forth in your September 27, 1993 letter to Mr. Perellis, and October 7, 1993 letter to certain de minimis PRPs. We believe that this proposal will form a framework for a settlement acceptable to the de minimis PRPs identified in this letter.

As is noted above, this settlement proposal is the result of literally hundreds of hours of effort aimed at developing a waste profile and allocation model that is responsive to the request of EPA for a comprehensive de minimis proposal for the ACS Site. The Group stands ready to work with EPA to implement an equitable de minimis settlement at the ACS Site, and believes that this proposal meets all of the requirements of law and EPA guidance, while at the same time insuring the health and safety of the public and the environment. Due to the comprehensive nature of the waste profile, we desire to meet with you to explain in further detail its basis, and answer any questions which you might have. The Group appreciates the opportunity to present a workable, equitable de minimis settlement proposal for consideration.
